Greater Astoria

ASTORIA,—the GRAND HARBOR CITY, majestically located on the rolling hills, at the Mouth of the Columbia, stands sentinel over the greatest fresh water harbor in the world, and the only one of its kind on the Pacific Coast.

The City of Astoria occupies a position of unparalleled beauty, and the grandeur of its scenery; mountain, valley, river and ocean, cannot be surpassed in any part of the world. The residential section of the city, located on the beautiful rolling hills, cannot be excelled in natural beauty and from the verandas of their homes the citizens can look out on the beauties of this magnificent harbor.

Astoria is one of the only five deep water harbors on the Pacific Coast. Its position is ideal with reference to river, rail and ocean transportation, and a glance at the map will suffice to point out to the observer the important harbors along the Pacific Coastline from lower California to Alaska. In that great distance these havens of the seafarer are few and of corresponding great importance. This city so fortunately situated, has now a population of approximately 17,000 people.

Astoria is fast becoming the chief distributing market for a territory of over 250,000 square miles. It commands the commerce of that big territory drained by the grand Columbia and its tributaries, the Snake, De Chutes, Willamette and Cowlitz Rivers, which form the most important basin from a commercial standpoint of any West of the Mississippi.

Astoria is on an absolute water grade for all of that vast region which the Columbia river drains. The development of this great territory has only begun, and Astoria is growing at a remarkable rate; because the resources of the Pacific Northwest are now being utilized and the vacant land occupied.

Astoria is a modern city. It is a customs port having bonded warehouses for the district of Oregon. The fishing industry is one of great importance to Astoria. The salmon industry alone amounts to more than six million dollars annually.

Astoria is the center of the greatest timber district in the world, there being more than 100,000,000,000 feet of standing timber tributary to this city. The combination of transportation facilities (ocean, rail and river), on one hand, and the vast raw material, on the other, backed up by a county whose soil is among the richest on earth, has made this city attractive to capitalists.

Astoria is the financial center for what is known as the lower Columbia River Basin. Its four large and substantial banks have a wide reputation for strength and conservative methods. More than $170,000,000.00 worth of business is handled annually by these banks, while the deposits total more than $6,000,000.00 per year.

Astoria's position gives it a water-route from far into the interior. Railroad lines following the rivers, together with steamboat lines, pour their traffic into this city at a minimum of operating charges.

Astoria's splendid fresh water harbor, the only one on the Coast, with a forty-foot channel to the sea at low tide, affords an ideal outlet for the huge volume of traffic brought to this market from the interior.

The Port Commissioners in connection with State and National appropriations maintain open water-ways to the ocean, as well as, far up the Columbia River. In connection with this work the Port Commission is now building the largest municipal dock on the Coast, which, when completed, will be able to accommodate twelve of the largest steamships, at one time, that ply the Pacific.

Astoria is also the home port of the Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company, who are now operating the finest steamers on the Pacific Ocean from this harbor, which company, in connection with the great Hill System, embodying the energies of the Great Northern Railway, the Northern Pacific Railway, Burlington Railway and the North Bank Railway, also the Southern Pacific, and Oregon-Washington Railway and Navigation Company, represented by the San Francisco and Portland Steamship Company, gives Astoria a commanding position for the trade of the world and the great Inland Empire.

Summer and Winter Resort.

Astoria lies close to the magnificent Clatsop and Cannon Beaches. The climate is delightful and ideal. Among all the climates of the globe, from the Arctic to the Equatorial regions, there is nothing more gloriously perfect. Blizzards, cyclones, tornados and thunder storms are unknown. Flowers bloom in the open air all the year round. Trees and grasses are as green as emerald in December and January. The Japan current along the coast makes the climate equable. The boundless forests, rugged crags on the fore-shore and golden sands stretching mile on mile beneath the blue skies, making up a scene of transcendent beauty. The much boasted climate of California is easily surpassed in Clatsop County. Clatsop and Cannon Beaches are fast becoming the Summer and Winter playgrounds for the people of the Pacific Northwest, with their commodious hotels open all the year round to the tourists, and those seeking health and rest. The golf links at Gearhart being the largest on the Pacific Coast, and the delight of all those who enjoy this great outdoor sport.

ACADEMY of the HOLY NAMES

BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

CONDUCTED BY THE

Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary

ASTORIA, OREGON

The courses of instruction include, Primary, Grammar, Academic corresponding to four years Standard High School Work; Commercial; Music. Pupils are required to give much attention to the study of Instrumental and Theoretical Music. (two lessons and one-half hour theory weekly, and at least one hour daily practice) Sewing and Sight Singing are taught in each grade.

The Commercial Course is highly recommended; many of the Academy graduates are now holding responsible positions in the leading business houses of our own City as well as elsewhere.

While awaiting the erection of a Catholic School for Boys, boys attend the Academy until they finish the Grammar Grades.

The Institution offers every facility to aid the young in acquiring a Christian education, solid, useful and cultured. The Sisters hold moral training an essential element in education, and their life purpose is to secure this benefit for the young intrusted to their care.

Seaside Directory

1915

The city of Seaside has an ideal climate the year round, unexcelled boating and bathing facilities, splendid hunting and fishing (both fresh and salt water) that combine to make it one of the most popular summer and winter resorts on the Pacific coast. Located on Clatsop Beach at the junction of the Necanicum and Wahanna rivers, 118 miles west of Portland as the terminus of the Spokane Portland and Seattle railroad Seaside has at present the brightest future of any city or resort on the Lower Columbia river. Seaside has a standing population of 1500, with as high as 10,000 during the summer months. One of the finest municipal water plants is located at Seaside, the water of which flows from mountain springs at the head of the Necanicum. Although small in population Seaside presents a metropolitan air at all times and is bustling with business the year round. Several large concrete buildings have been erected the past year and plans are underway for the erection of more during the winter. Seaside has aside from the above improvements 4½ miles of pavement, an electric lighting plant, best of schools and churches. The outlook for Seaside as a commercial center is promising as at present there are large timber tracts being cruised for logging and numerous logging crews are at work the year round in the vicinity. Seaside has a weekly newspaper, the Seaside Signal, a Co-Operative creamery, sash and door factory, saw and planing mill and there is room for several more as the timber is inexhaustable. The scenery in and around Seaside is unsurpassed anywhere and the climate is mild in winter and cool in summer. Best of telephone and telegraph service, modern hotels at all points on the beach, fine livery accommodations and several passenger trains both ways to and from Portland makes Seaside the place to spend the summer months.
